Training and Teaming Up

3 weeks training / 1 week working

The Next Steps New Zealand team consists of a group of 18 passionate, Apostolic young people. The first three weeks of our time here in Hamilton NZ has been dedicated to training. We were taught the 'ins and outs' of practical missionary work from a Biblical lens by experienced missionaries and instructors such as Angie Clark, Cori Smith, James Poitras, Allan Shalm, and more. It was a time of immense personal growth as well as a challenge to live out the Great Commission as Global Christians.

We just began our full-time apprenticeship with missionaries Brandon and Mollie Borders at Grace Fellowship. We have been blessed to be a part of youth Sunday school classes, church cleaning, worship service, outreach efforts, attending group Bible studies, and traveling to a preaching point in a nearby city.

I treasure our team's commitment to daily devotion, group prayer, and Bible reading. We have the privilege to work together to lift up the hands of our missionaries, and reach out to the community. We are stronger together, and I value the Next Steps New Zealand Team so much!
